OUR FAMOUS FAMILY STYLE DINNER!!!

A brief history of family style meals:

It is believed, by some, that family style dinning originated in Asian countries with the gathering of family and friends around a table and a host bringing 7-10 dishes to the table for everyone to consume, usually centered around several proteins. Before the 1900's American family meals were plated and a somewhat formal affair, remaining amounts of food were left in the preparation area and the only items on the dining table would be the plated meal, flatware, drinking vessels and maybe a center piece. Sometime between the 1930's and 40's the process changed to what is now considered family style dinning. Platters and bowls of food are brought to the table and each person has the option to take what they want. At Haag's we carry on this American tradition by offering our Family Style Meals to bring family and friends together in a casual stress free environment.
